

Loving God

A Wedding Song

Words: Robert Loretz
Music: Gustav Holst

1. Lo - ving God, when you cre - a - ted them You saw this ho - ly day, — When they
2. From the cross, O Lord, you of - fered us the ul - ti - mate em - brace, — From a
3. Through Your Word, from the be - gin - ning, You made wo - man and man, — And you
4. At the wed - ding feast of Ca - na You first per - formed a sign, — At the

1. both, who are them - selves Your gift, would give them - selves a - way. Made by
2. strong - er love than death it - self, flows eve - ry strength - 'ning grace. You re -
3. joined the two to be one flesh ac - cor - ding to Your plan. That their
4. ur - ging of Your mo - ther, turned wa - ter in - to wine. Hear her

1. Love, in Love's own i - mage, and re - deemed by Love's full price, Called to
2. veiled a hid - den my - stery, as the sol - dier pierced Your side, For the
3. lo - ving may be fruit - ful, and their un - ion e - ver be, Flow ing
4. prayers, now at the wed - ding of her daugh - ter and her son, By trans -

1. i - mage that dy - ing of Love in sa - cri - fice, By Your
 2. Blood and the Wa - ter have formed the Church, Your Bride, From Your
 3. from their com - mu - nion in You, O Tri - ni - ty, And that
 4. form - ing di - vine - ly what hu - man - ly be - gun, That You

1. grace, You make re - al - i - ty the love that they have signed, For it's
 2. heart, the li - ving wa - ters of bap - ti - sm make new, And all
 3. Word sent forth, be - co - ming flesh makes new the my - ste - ry, Forms a
 4. fill these ear - then ves - sels, 'till they be - come a flood, O - ver

1. on - ly those who lose their life who real - li - ving find.
 2. those who hum - bly eat Your Flesh are made one flesh with You.
 3. u - nion with His Spot - less Bride for all e - ter - ni - ty.
 4. flow - ing for an ach - ing world the heal - ing of Your Blood.